Teachers' Classes.

Special attention will be given to the preparation of pupils for teaching. There is a constant demand for teachers and nearly all the advanced pupils teach during vacation. The thorough drill and instruction given will be found especially helpful to all who are desirous of becoming teachers.

General Information.

MEMBERSHIP.

To become a member of the school a person must have a good moral character.

Pupils should enter the first day of the school that they may be immediately classified, and thus lose no time.

Students in regular classes lose their class membership when absent any considerable part of the year. Those who graduate from the regular course will receive a diploma certifying that fact.

Law Department.

This department is in successful operation with an efficient corps of Professors. An attendance of two years, or its equivalent is required. Students from other law schools will be received to a corresponding grade. Applicants for admission who have read law for one year under a competent lawyer, and who pass a satisfactory examination, will be admitted to the second course of lectures. At the conclusion of two years' course of study a faithful examination will take place, and those whose proficiency in the knowledge of law warrants it, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws, entitling them to practice in the Courts of Louisiana.

This University gives an annual course of Lectures commencing 1st Monday of November and ending in March ensuing, or as soon as practicable thereafter. Students are recommended to enter early in the term if possible.

Students are recommended to consult and become familiar with the following works; Story on the Constitution; Vattel's Law of Nations, or Wheaton's Elements of International Law; the Louisiana Civil Code and Code of Practice; Revised Statutes of Louisiana and the United States Statutes; and Statutes of a general nature subsequently passed; the Institutes of Justinian; Domat's Civil Law; Pothier's Treatise on Obligations; Blackstone and Kent's Commentaries; Smith on Mercantile Law; Story or Parson on Notes; Chitty, or Bayly on Bills; Greenleaf, Starkie, or Phillips on Evidence; Russell on Crimes; Hennen's, Walker's and Louque's Digests, and the decisions of the Supreme Court of Louisiana generally.

Facilities will be afforded to consult such of the above as may be expensive or inconvenient for the student to possess.

Each Lecturer will instruct in the science or theory and practice of the department of Law assigned to him, according to the usage of the Courts of the United States and the State of Louisiana.

The instructions in each department of Law will cover not only the science or theory, but the practice as known in the Courts of the United States and State of Louisiana.

Terms: $56 00 a year, in advance.

At graduation an additional charge of $5 00 will be made for diploma and other incidental expenses.

Theological Department.

Lectures will be regularly given in Exegesis, Systematic Theology, Ecclesiastical History, Pastoral Theology and Homiletics. The privileges of the department are accessible to all who desire to qualify themselves for the Christian ministry. College graduates and students of advanced standing are especially desired. The benefits of the Theological lectures are afforded to all, without cost, whose character and abilities justify their choice of the sacred office of the Ministry.

Students who have received a diploma of graduation from a College or University, will, at the completion of a three year's course of study in this department, receive the Degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

Students who have not received a College education, will receive, upon leaving this department, a certificate stating the length of time spent in theological studies, and the character and scholarship attained.

Music.

Instruction in vocal music is given to all the members of the school, regularly, free of charge. A choral class, free to all the members of the school, meets three times a week for the study and practice of the higher styles of music.

The opportunities for securing a good musical education, vocal and instrumental, are exceptionnally good.

Expenses.

Board, per month, including washing.....	$11 00
Tuition, per month.....	1 00
Music (extra), per month, on Piano.....	3 00
Music (extra), per month, on Organ.....	2 50

Library.

We have the nucleus of a good library, a few hundred volumes of practical value to the students. These have been catalogued and placed in the new University, where the students have access to them.

The importance of a good library cannot be over estimated. Many of our pupils have access to few if any books except text books, and we desire to place before them such as will be an incentive to the formation of a correct and healthy taste for good reading.

Contributions of standard works are earnestly desired.

Boarding.

Through the munificent gift of Mrs. Valeria G. Stone, of Malden, Mass., the Girl's Dormitory, named for our generous friend, "STONE HALL," has been erected. It will accomodate seventy-five girls. It is the residence of the teachers. Here, the girls will be under the personal supervision of a Christian Preceptress, who will, so far as possible, supply the place of the parents, in the care exercised over the conduct and morals of the boarding pupils.

A Boys' Dormitory will be put up at the earliest possible day. In case of delay in the erection of this building, the best possible care will be taken of the young men entrusted to us.

The girls who board in Stone Hall will be required to work one hour each day under the direction of the Matron, thus lessening the cost of their board. This work will consist of waiting upon the table, sweeping, arranging the rooms, etc. It will not only reduce the cost of board, but will fit them for the practical duties of life. This custom prevails in all our boarding schools and is always attended with the best results.

Application for admission to the University should be made if possible in September, to Prof. J. M. McPherron, Principal, either in person or by letter. The Principal can be addressed at Straight University, New Orleans.

History.

The Institution is controlled and supported by the American Missionary Association, New York. In 1869 the plan was formed to establish a University in New Orleans for the education of the colored people in this and adjoining States. The ground was purchased by the American Missionary Association, and the building was erected by the Government and dedicated in February, 1870. The act of incorporation is dated June 25th, 1769, in which it is stated that the University is endowed "with the power to confer all such honors and degrees as are conferred by Universities of the United States of America." The building erected on Esplanade street in 1870, was destroyed by fire February 16th, 1877.

The new University building on Canal street (corner of Tonti), has been occupied four years. We regard it as a model building, in its convenience, its economy of space, and in all its appointments for school purposes. The building is located on spacious ground, in the most healthy portion of the city. God has crowned the University with His blessings in the past, and we have a right to anticipate in the immediate future a degree of usefulness and success, which shall correspond to our increased ability to meet the growing demands of education in Louisiana.

The force of teachers, graduates from our best Colleges and Normal Schools, will be increased to meet the growing demands of the University.
